

Tama...The Blue Note Cafe debacle encapsulates the inner essence of what can only be called The EW paddling experience. How it does this, philosophers and philanthropists will debate and conjecture over for decades to come (if the world hasn't decided to evict humans first, bunch of viral freeloaders they are). So, in an attempt to describe a sunrise to a blind person, I shall elaborate on the key factors that seem to contribute to this astounding phenomenon (doot doooo de do do)

We enjoy ourselves. Alcoholis inalotofus.
We work together. Aten viro menta li y catu si mostofus
We stick together. Triantu stae standinupae
We sleep together. Sorasass bac inpakerus
We eat together. Porcanegsis brekafis

Put quite simply, EW ROCKS!!. Factus incomprehendus.
